PLUTARCO CALLES

Mexico City, April 18.—The newspaper Excelsior to-day printed a statement signed by J. E. Valdec, president of the Legalista Party, who declared "the term of office of President Calles had been extended two years and the presidential election of June called off." Valdec claimed the constitutional amendment passed by Congress, extending the presidential term from four to six years, became effective last January when it was printed in the official gazette. He said Congress evidently intended to keep Calles in office for two more years or else the bill would have carried a provision declaring the law in effect with the inauguration of a new President in December.

TWO MORE YEARS

Opportunities in Canada now, particularly in British Columbia and Que-bec, are so impressive and amazing that Heularly in British Columbia and Quebec, are so impressive and amazing that it is fascinating to imagine the changes that will be effected through the development of the next twenty-five to fifty years. Hon William Phillips, U.S. Minister to Canada, declared at the luncheon tendered him by the Canadian Club of Victoria at the Empress Hotel to-day.

The Minister began his address by saying that he had a special feeling for the Canadian Club of Victoria because it was one of the first of the Canadian Clubs to open its doors to him, and because it did so, in fact, even before he had presented his letters of credence in Ottawa and had become. In fact the Minister of the United States. He was glad, therefore, to have this occasion to express his grateful appreciation of the courtesy and hospitality of the club. Moreover, it was an inspiration to him to see gathered together a group of men who were all taking an active interest in the affairs of the Dominion, and contributing in different ways to its prosperity.

He paid a tribute to the capital of the Province by referring to it as the "jewel of the West." Having come from the lice and snows of Ottawa, it seemed almost too good to be true to find himself surrounded by such gardens and hedges, and green fields.

"No wonder." he said, "that my countrymen are coming here by the thousands to enjoy, as tourists and holiday seekers, the beauty of your Island, and I, for one, shall hereafter lawsy preach the gospel of a holiday in vancouver Island whenever I have the opportunity.

in Vancouver Island whenever I have the opportunity.

"As I travel about your great Do-minion in search of knowledge, I am more and more impressed by the amazing opportunities which are to be found everywhere in your great coun-try. This, I know, is a somewhat hackneyed statement, and yet nothing is commonplace if if it expresses the truth. British Columbia and Quebec, the one the gateway to the year Percinc. the other the gateway to the vast Atlantic, are so impressive that it is fascinating to let one's imagination wander and to attempt to visualize them twenty-five or fifty years hence. Should I give vent to my true feelings on the subject I should probably be accused by my countrymen of becoming rather too enthusiastic a Canadian properly to fulfil my functions in the Dominion."

COLONEL AND EX-SOLDIERS ARE HEARD AT TRIAL

Col. J. A. Currie, Toronto, Witness at Hearing of Sir Arthur Currie's Suit

Judge Refuses to Allow Freedom to Comment on Incidents

Cobourg, Ont. April 18—At yesterday's session of the hearing in the Ontario Supreme Court here of the suit for $50,000 damages for alleged libel brought by General Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson publisher of The Port. Hope Guide, Colonel John A. Currie of Toronto testified he was an "original" of the 48th Highland Regiment of Toronto. He served overseas during the war, having volunteered for the battalion to Major-General Hughes on August 12, 1914. He went overseas and reached France in command of his own battalion. He had been offered a staff appointment, but had refused it. The whole division went to France and proceeded by train to the Types salient, the witness still in command of the battalion. The plaintiff was in command of the Second Brigade. He remembered the three Battles of Gravenstafel Bridge, St. Julien and Friesenburg.

DISCUSSION OF CONDUCT

Some question as to the relevancy of the evidence was raised. Mr. Regan said he was pressing the question because at this battle he hoped to prove the conduct of the plaintiff was such as not to reflect credit on him. It was from this battle that a story got out which was mentioned on the floor of the House of Commons, and he wanted to place the responsibility where it belonged. This was given in regard to counsel's statement as to the requirement of character evidence.

The judge and Mr. Regall entered into a lengthy interchange.

The judge counselled Colonel Currie not to answer until he gave his consent.

Assisting Mr. Wilkinson in arrangements for the gathering is F. O'Grady, district fire warden. Residents are enthusiastically behind the objects of the gathering and definite action will probably be taken towards this first attempt at community organization for forest perpetuation.

BATTLE OF YPRES

At the request of counsel, Colonel Currie described in rapid words the general situation during the Second Battle of Ypres. He explained the enemy had attacked his own battalion, and also the French on his left. The colonel was entering upon a description of various headquarters when the judge stopped him.

Mr. Regan asked if there was any

NO ST. JULIEN EVIDENCE

Mr. Justice Rose ruled he would not admit any evidence regarding the Battle of St. Julien with regard to any of General Currie's mistakes or deliberate acts, on the ground that this was not evidence or reputation, which was impugned.

Colonel Currie asked if he could make a statement, but he was refused.

Mr. Regan sought to ask Colonel Currie a question based upon one of the questions in the examination for discovery, but the judge refused.

At one point, when the witness sought to comment the judge warned him that "you have heard that question ruled out. I have a good mind to comment the judge warned him that "you have heard that question ruled out. I have a good mind to commit you for contempt of court."

The witness did not know if there was any firing on November 10. He said he had gone into Mons on the night of November 10. The said he had gone into Mons on the night of November 11, or early on November 12. He saw two or three dead soldiers lying on a sidewalk. They were Allied soldiers.

Mr. Regan—What was the comment passed by the men when they saw these bodies?

Mr. Regan—Continued and asked about the parade at Mons, but the witness said he had not seen it.

QUESTION ABOUT JUSTIFICATION

Mr. Regan—This war had been going on for four years. Sir Arthur Currie had been in command of the Canadian Corps for over a year. In addition to the information he would receive from other sources, he also had access to information from a political standpoint. He knew the German envoys had come over to Marshal Foch two days previously for terms of peace, He also knew the armistice had been signed at 5 science, and the difficulty of the Canadians should not have continued the offensive. Witness—Ability as a military commander.

Mr. Regan asked to clonel Logic Armistrong to look up the man's record. Robert Marshall was recalled and asked what General Currie's reputation was an on the continued to find the continued to the parade at Mons, but the witness. He was not very popular.

LEADER'S REPUTATION

Mr. Regan—There have been some the information from a political standpoint. He knew the German envoys had come over to Marshal Foch two days previously for terms of peace. He also knew the armistice had been signed at 5 o'clock on the morning of November 11.

Mr. Regan asked to produce the official records regarding a soldier named Price. He was killed at a minutes to 11 o'clock. This man was 26525, Private G. L. Price, said the witness. He gave Mr. Regan the file of the dead man, explaining it was the "Circumstance of death report maked what the witness meant by reputation.

Mr. Tilley—I did not know we were going to have a discussion on popularity or a beauty contest.

He said he could not follow the testimony, for the last thing he would do would be to reflect on other generals. There was popularity and efficiency and the one might go in inverse ratio with the other.

Mr. Regan did not press the matter, but he felt the word "reputation" in the newspaper article complained of did not merely mean technical skill. He was not asking about Sir Arthur Currie's brain, but was dealing with his humanity—how he felt toward the private soldiers and how he had acted toward them.

Mr Justice Rose—Then that question s disallowed. Mr. Regan then asked if Sir Arthur Jurie had been considerate of the omfort of the soldiers. That was disallowed.

PINION OF FIGHTING

Mr. Regan-Sir Arthur Currie knew the armistice was signed at 5 o'clock in the morning and that hostilities would cease at 11 o'clock. What would you say of the attitude of the commander with regard to further flighting of the Canadian Corps?

Cross-examined by Mr. Tilley, he was asked why the Canadians should stop lighting if the Germans were also lighting right up to 11 o'clock.

Mr. Tilley—Did the Germans send ou any notice they were retrine?

THE ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

WHEN IT IS BOILED DOWN THE CORrespondence which has been exchanged between the Canadian and United States governments reveals the fact that a basis of negotiation in respect of the St. Lawrence waterway project has been reached. It was not to be supposed that both countries would agree to every detail with respect to the manner in which these negotiations should be conducted. The Canadian Government, for instance, is of the view that an agreement should be reached first on the engineering phases of the problem before the financial and economic phases are dealt with. The United States Government, however, would prefer an agreement to be reached on finance at once because it is not worried about a solution of the engineering problem which the scheme involves. At the same time, the Washington authorities are willing to concede the Canadian standpoint, and would agree to the calling together of the engineering organizations without delay. From the international point of view, therefore, no apparent

Very naturally such an undertaking requires a great deal of consideration. Canada's financial obligation, including such policies as those to which she already is committed and upon which a large amount of money has been spent to date, would total $400,-830,000 and that of the United States is estimated at $383,183,000. Details of these expenditures are set out as follows:

stumbling blocks bar the way to an agreement on the principle of co-operation.

CANADA'S SHARE

Canada—Present works:
St. Lawrence ship canal, $30,000,000.
St. Lawrence and Welland canals, $50,000,000.
Lock at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, $5,560,000; tal, $85,560,000.

Proposed works:
Welland Ship Canal, $115,600,000.
Wholly Canadian section. St. Lawrence shipway, twenty-seven-foot navigation and development of 943,300 h.p., $199,670,000; total, $315,270,000.
Total for Canada, $400,830,000.

UNITED STATES SHARE

United States—Present works: Dredging St. Clair and Detroit rivers, $17.536,000. Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, $26,300.-); total, $43,836,000.

Proposed works: International section, St. Lawrence shipway, entry-seven-foot navigation and initial develop-nt of 597,600 h.p. $182,157,000.

ment of 597,600 h.p. $105,107,000.

To complete development:
Additional power, 1,602,000 h.p., $92,090,000.

Upper lake channels to twenty-seven feet $65,100,000; total $339,347,000.

Total for United States, $383,183,000.

The findings of the international committee which investigated all phases of the proposal specify that the United States should undertake to defray the whole cost of deepening the international section and that Canada should foot the bill for developing that section of the waterway which lies wholly in Canadian territory. In other words, we are required to continue with our present development policies and extend them in conjunction with our neighbor. In this obviously we have the best of the bargain with respect to the additional initial outlays, since this country is not asked to contribute anything towards the deepening of the international part of the waters.

In the schedule of Canadian costs set out above it will be noted that $115,600,000 is given as the cost of the Welland Ship Canal. It should be understood, of course, that this undertaking now is nearing completion. Most of this money already has been spent by Canada; but its inclusion in the schedule is necessary for bookkeeping purposes. The same remarks apply also to the St. Lawrence Ship Canal, $30,000,000; the St. Lawrence and Welland canals, $50,000,000; and the lock at Sault Ste. Marie, $5,560,000. That is to say, the cost of the new works which Canada would have to defray amounts to $199,670,000. By the same token, of course, the United States schedule of costs includes money already spent on projects which are intended to fit into the general scheme.

Powerful interests in Montreal are energetically opposing the project because they think it will injure the business of that port. In their opinion the doing away of the transshipment of cargoes at that point will involve it in considerable loss. There is nothing new in this attitude. The interests which are opposing this scheme are the same interests as those which did everything possible to prevent a reduction in the freight rates on grain shipped to Pacific Coast ports. They would not lift a finger in support of any move that would assist the development of the country as a whole. It is the same selfishness as that which continually is demanding a higher tariff on the goods Canada imports. The country pronounced upon their policies at the general election in 1926-and our prosperity is increasing all the time. The Canadian people have reached the conclusion that there are other cities in the Dominion besides Montreal. Such objections as they may or may not raise to the waterway project, therefore, will take no account of sectional selfishness.

There is, however, a very real reason why this Dominion should look with favor upon this undertaking, and The Toronto Star sets wout clearly in Canada may as well face actualities. The United States will get relief for her midwest by one means or another. If Canada bars the way to the sea, via the St. Lawrence, the United States will make the Mississippi the main transportation route to sait water or build a ship canal from the great lakes to the Hudson river and cause traffic to go that way, to the great detriment of the ports of Montreal and Quebec. The St. Lawrence waterway would do wonderful things in the way of building up eastern Canada, particularly the maritime provinces. The chance to have the United States contribute largely to its cost under conditions that would ensure the carrying of the supplies and produce of the midwest through Canadian channels, once lost, may never recur. To lose the opportunity when it presents itself because of miserable party politics in this country would be little short of a national calamity.

This is the alternative. It is the phase of the situation which should be borne in mind by the Canadian people. Some critics, of course, have been warning us that Canada's participation in the plan would be tantamount to giving to the United States much more than we should get in return for our outlay. The Dominion Government recognizes, however, that our paramount interest in the deepening of the St. Lawrence is Canadian and, as our Toronto contemporary reminds us, "an improvement project must take cognizance of that truth." About this our people need have no qualms.

THE WAR MIND

LOCAL CANVASSERS FOR THE League of Nations Society have our sympathy in their task of trying to convince people that war is not inevitable. It is difficult to imagine a state of mind at this stage which would welcome international conflict because "war days were prosperous days with plenty of work at high rates of pay." It seems nothing to this warped mentality that plenty of work at high rates of pay is furnished by the spilling of human blood. Then we have the extraordinary idea that "when you bring together under one roof people from every nation and start them arguing about grievances, you are inviting war; keep them as far apart as the poles and you will preserve

It must require the patience of Job to talk calmly to people with these amazing views; they either are devoid of intelligence altogether, or else they are just stupid by choice. On the other hand, however, it is fortunate that the League of Nations Society in Canada has undertaken this drive if only for the reason that we are learning why, out of a population of more than nine millions, there are no more than 6,500 members of the national organization. These revelations surely will impress a progressive and peace-loving people with the absolute necessity of developing a different outlook among a section of the population. We can take it that the war-mongers are in the minority; but we also must recognize the fact that wars always are made by the minority.

THE APPOINTING OF JUDGES

THE PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEE that is dealing with the question of the salaries of judges should also, in the opinion of The Ottawa Journal, urge upon the Government the desirability of the elimination of all partisanship in the appointment of judges. "This is not intended as a criticism of the present Government alone," it says. "All governments in Canada have been subjected to political pressure in making judicial appointments; and all-future governments will be subjected to the same pressure. It is a fact, however, that in recent years there has been a diminishing resistance to such solicitations, with the consequence that, all too often, judgeships, like senatorships, have gone to men because they were defeated candidates, or because they had given certain services, in Parliament or otherwise, to the party in

"Let Parliament, by all means, see to it that the salaries paid to judges are adequate to maintain them from the suspicion of temptation," we read further. "But with that just step let it also try to do something to see to it that the foundation stone of the impartiality of British justice, the very bedrock of our rights as freemen, be not weakened by appointments to the bench for considerations other than merit. At a time when, more than ever before in this century, there is a tendency to flaunt law and order, and to mistake license for liberty, there could be no finer or more useful act."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ADVERTISING CANADA From The Ottawa Cit

Hon. Vincent Massey's tour through the Western states must have obtained an immense amount of valuable publicity for this Dominion. He has been extensively reported in the United States press. In a recent speech at Kanass City, he told an audience of business men something about the growth of agriculture and mining in Canada. No amount of paid advections would be read with such interest by the ture and mining in Canada. No amount of paid advertising would be read with such interest by the public. Measured in money value, publicity given to the Canadian minister's speeches is probably worth more than the whole cost of maintaining the legation at Washington since it opened. Vincent Massey is doing something more than to advertise Canada, however. He is contributing much toward building the basis of credit which is essential to the success of Canadian business abroad.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

CLEAN_UP WEEK

To the Editor:—The annual slogan, stirred to life by the smell of new-turned earth, budding hushes and dainty daffodils, is with us again—"clean-up and paint-up." It is a good omen, indeed, that the desire to beautify the city keeps alive and active. But why the aporadic efforts? The Scandinavian people, noted for cheir-cleanliness, have a national motto, which says: "If each one reund his own door swept, the village would be clean." This trite old truth occurred to me on reading the vigorous denial of the Junior Chamber of Commerce "boxed" on your front page, to-night's issue: "No Drones Wanted." Brokendown fences, untitly front and rear gardens, and slovenly ways are declared taboo and anathema to the anappy Junior Chamber of Commerce."

But why sling the insinuation in the general direction of the humble citizen? To my mind, a broadside of straight-shooting talk aimed and landed in the City Hall would be well used ammunition. The biggest of-fender to-day last wear the vear before used ammunition. The biggest of-fender to-day, last year, the year before that, and very probably next year, if that, and very probably next year, if not forced to amend, is the department responsible for it, at the City Hall. Let me particularize.

There is a large vacant lot on pouglas Street, just across, slightly north, from the Hudson's Bay Co, store, which has the accumulation of several years of tin cans and general garbage in full view of every car and person passing. Further along, same direction, is one move for, not quite so bad, but dirty. Regarding fallen fences. The old Graham property on Hillside has a fine ornamental wire fence going to ruin for want of posts. The fence is now leaning and twisted in every direction. City property! That is the contemptuous reply or remark of people passing that way. I could enumerate a host of other cases of civic neglect to clean-up and fence-up. It is no mystery.

RE GARRAGE CANS

To the Editor—Will you kindly sllow me through the medium of your columns to express my unbounded gratifude to the city fathers for their late most meritorious achievement: I refer, of course, to the splendid reduction of twenty cents they have made in the price of garbage cans. How happy they must feel as they enjoy a well-earned rest in the evening to think that many humble citizens who for years past have been compelled to deny themselves a holiday will now be able to take a trip to Sooke or Oak Bay or Pive Points, or some other one of the beauty spots for which this Island is so justly famous.

But, Mr. Editor, do you really think it is quite safe for them to make such a heavy reduction all at once? Of course, I know it is generous but it. To the Editor-Will you kindly allow serious consequences to the welfare of this city. I may be mistaken. I trust I am not.

I think, Sir, however, you will agree with me that announcements of heavy reduction in the expenses of the citizens such as the one forming the subject of this letter should not be made suddenly. To prevent the danger always involved in a shock of any kind, I would suggest that the gublic mind be prepared gradually for two or three weeks before the exact nature of the joyful tidings is made known. This I feel confident would lessen the chance of any fatality occurring to cast a gloom over what otherwise might be a festive occasion.

As an additional precaution they have suggested a few minor adjustments which will place the safety of this building beyond question. The investigation was undertaken not because we though there was any danger, but at the same time we wished to be absolutely sure of being on the safe side and to allay and put to rest any fear regarding the same.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR TO OPEN SHOW

Change in Plans Necessary Through Absence of Governor-Genera

Whole Floor of Big Bus Depot Will Be Crowded With Floral Exhibits

Official opening of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association's second annual Spring flower show willbe made by His Honor Lièut. Governor R. Randolph Bruce at 2:30 o'clock on Friday, April 27.

This is a change in the original plan as Their Excellenices. Lord and Lady Willingdon, will be absent from the city on the opening day. They have kindly consented to present the prizes, however, on the Saturday when the judging has been completed.

JUDGES NAMED JUDGES NAMED

JUDGES NAMED

Announcement is made by P. R. Leighton, secretary of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, that the judges have been selected for the exhibition. They are J. Fyfe Smith of Vancouver, R. M. Palmer of Duncan, E. W. White of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, horticultural branch, and George Robinson of Elk Lake.

The second floor of the Broughton Street stage depot has been procured for the show, and practically the entire 15,000 square feet of floor space will be taken by displays and table exhibits. A large portion of wall space has also been taken by exhibitors.

Interest in the show this year is more widespread than last year, and is attracting considerable attention from the general public as a special appeal

Nearly 1,000 entries are expected. The entries do not close until forty-eight hours before the show opens, so that Mr. Leighton has been conservative in his estimate.

There are 165 classes in which to enter, and for these classes twenty-one trophies and challenge cups and $500 in prizes have been put up for competition. During the exhibition the Victoria Women's Institute will serve

FORD TALKS WITH LLOYD GEORGE IN BRITISH CAPITAL

Visitor From U.S. Finds Ex-Premier Has Many Questions to Ask

London, April 18—Henry Ford saw Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George at his best yesterday. The ex-Premier, just back from the Easter holidays, was as keen as a whistle and so inquisitive about the United States that he almost forgot to eat his chop.

Mr. Ford accepted Mr. Lloyd George's funcheon invitation with pleasure and anticipated hearing much about British politics. He had already talked with King George and the Prince of Wales, but of course no foreigner ever thinks ow talking politics with royalty. So the American automobile manufacturer thought an opportunity to learn all about the ins and outs of British political events had arrived at last. VARIED QUESTIONS to ask the Liberal leader, but Mr. Lloyd George started asking about the presidential campaign. What were Hoover's dential campaign. What were Hoover's chances and Dawes's and Al Smith's? Then he — Mr. Ford's views on prohibition, on industry, on exports, on imports, on agriculture—the former Premier being particularly interested in farmers. He asked about tractors and inquired about rubber, about Detroit, about Desrborn, about Detroit, about the views of the United States on the League of Nations—in fact just about everything under the American sun. And the first thing Mr. Ford knew the luncheon was concluded, and Mr. Lloyd George rushed off to attend the opening of the House of Commons. "My goodness," exclaimed Mr. Ford afterwards, "but that man can ask questions."

Lemon Points Way To Market Success

If, at times, British Columbia has difficulty in marketing its always appetizing fruits, what would be thought of the difficulty of marketing a fruit which matures twelve months of the year, yet is normally in demand only during two seasons—when colds are prevalent in Winter and when the days are hot in Summer? That is the case with the lemon—a steady production with but a seasonal demand.

California has to face the lemon problem. Last year it was one of five or six million boxes, each of about double the weight of a box of apples. The greater portion were marketed as fresh fruit. Not only so, but they double the weight of a box of apples. The greater portion were markede as fresh fruit. Not only so, but they were profitably marketed. How? By finding new uses for them and by a steady and continuous advertising programme to create consumer acceptance. It is by advertising that the California producers have solved the problem of marketing their continually increasing productly in a different production. The continually increasing product in a different production of marketing their continually increasing product to make thought on ways and means of increasing consumption.

backed by concentrated thought the ways and means of increasing consumption.

Consider, for instance, the work of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, which markets the products of its growers under the well-known "Sunkist" brand. Last year its assessment for advertising per box of oranges was four and one-half cents. This year it is five cents. On lemons last year it is ten cents. On the expected output in 1928 these total well over $1,000,000.

There is nothing of a hit or miss nature about this. Their plans are all laid and being carried out to-daywers laid, indeed, months ago. Such colored plate that is to be used in the women's magazines, such as "The Ladies' Home Journal," "Good House-keeping," "Pictorial Review" and others; each black-and-white reproduction for newspapers and trade journals, is already decided how many times each shall be run, how many inches of space it shall occupy and in what newspapers.

it shall occupy and in what newspapers.

This information is not merely kept on file. It is reproduced in a book of fifty-one pages, of the size of "Saturday Evening Post," so that officers, district and local exchanges, members, selling force and agents may know what is being planned. Ag an indication of the care which is taken, the exchange members may learn the circulation of each newspaper used and the number of lines taken therein. They may know the total number of families in any city from Boston to San Francisco, the number who pay income tax and the circulation of the newspaper and magazine campaign. Efforts are proportioned to possibilities.

But this information is not intended.

ties.

But this information is not intended merely for the producer. It is to hearten and enthuse the entire sales force—down to the retailer, who knows that his own individual efforts are being supported by nation-wide advertising plans.

supported by hatchi-wice saveries, plans.

Reliance is placed not only on advertising, but the principle is adopted of bringing the product before the consumer in an ever-increasing number of ways. A department of fresh fruit drinks is maintained, the chief business of which is to sell the fruit juice attractors, now familiar to all dwellers.

drinks is maintained, the chief business of which is to sell the fruit juice extractors, now familiar to all dwellers in or visitors to cities, including Canadian cities.

Then there is the dealer service department, which is "a clearing-house of the liveliest sure-fire information on better buying, seiling and displaying of citrus fruit." It aims to strengthen the hands of the retailers.

Magazine "health-talks" have also been brought into use, and a national campaign on "accidosis" is under way.

Now you begin to see how the marketing problem of lemons coming from the tree twelve months out of the yearways largely solved. Lemons—"best form" with tea! Lemons—for plest lemons—with fish! Lemons—for plest lemons—with fish! Lemons—for plest lemons—with the dozen!" And yet there was a surplus of lemons. What was done with them will be told later. Advertising made a profitable market, even in competition with imported lemons from Spain and Sicily, which are nearly always available.

There is a moral in this for the British Columbia fruit producer. California grows chiefly citrus fruits. The deciduous fruit grown in British Columbia is among the best in the world and we should tell it so. For this special purpose the Legislature, at its last session, authorized the Interior Committee of Direction to promote the fruit and vegetable industry by compiling, publishing, distributing and furnishing information with respect thereto. The will be its added responsibility in 1928.

Science Begins to Get Real Facts on Glands

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Medical science is beginning to ac-cumulate more and more information about the glands and the manner in which they and their secretions affect about the glands and the manner in which they and their secretions affect the general condition of the body.

When it first began to be realized how important were the functions of such tissues as the thyroid, the hypophysis, the parathyroid, the pancreas, the adrenals and other glandular organs, philosopher physicians began to develop all sorts of queer notions regarding the importance of these tissues to the human body.

After the first flights of fancy passed, however, reasearch workers in laboratories began to study simple problems and to accumulate real facts of importance in understanding these mysterious glands.

For instance, the glands known as the adrenals, which lie just above the kidneys, are sometimes destroyed by serious disease. When this occurs, the person is likely to develop a condition known as Addison's disease, in which there is usually great weakness, disziness, shortness of breath, loss of weight, soreness of the joints, and gradual breaking down of the human body. Usually the skin becomes pigmented and turns to a sort of bronze color. In the absence of the secretion of the adrenal glands, the person is likely to die.

adrenal glands, the person is likely to die.

The hypophyls is a small gland lying near the brain. Its overgrowth may be associated with peculiar changes in the structure of the body. Glantism and dwarfism are not infrequent in relation to changes in this gland.

The pancreas secretes the substance that is important in the handling of sugar by the body. Destruction of portions of the cells of the pancreas results in diabetes.

tions of the cells of the pancreas results in diabetes.

The thyroid gland is associated with goitre. Changes in the sex glan's result in anomalies being developed which are of great interest.

The extracts of these glands seem to have important effects on the body in some cases. Unfortunately, the American market is flooded with preparations of glands and extracts that are worthless.

In Paris!

Now, American girls are showing the French how to wear clothes? Doris Padmore, lovely New York City girl whose home is at 70 Barrow Street, is in Paris, displaying newers "early Patou, the famous French designes. The girls over the strick to learn from her. She says: "Evgryone marvels at the lustre and softness of my hair. Many of the girls ask me if I use brilliantine. I always delight in telling the easy way we New York girls take care of our hair. All we do is just put a few dashes of Danderine on our brushes each time we dress our hair. The first few times I used it all my dandruff disappeared and every time it gives new sparkle and life to my hair. It keeps it in place, too, just like I arrange it and makes wery smy scalp alwaysfeel grand. I don't have to shampoo nearly so often, either, now that I'm using Danderine."

Every application of Danderine refreshes and tones your scalp. It removes the oily film and makes every strand gleam with new lustre. It dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. Isn't sticky or oily. All drug stores have the big 35c bottles.

Among many glimpses of the Rockies, a typical scene is that of the Valley of foreground the sunlight falls in edge the roadside.

Another striking oil is that of "A

mrs. MLC. writes:

"My baby girl of nineteen months shows a very bad temper when displeased over anything; slaps at me, kicks and throws her arms about. When she must be prevented from doing anything shall I use the spanking method? I try coaxing her, but in vain. A few times I have spanked her, but she only acreams the louder. She is very bright, joints two or three words together into sentences. I dislike to punish her, and your suggestions would be appreciated."

ANSWEE ANSWER

These are difficult problems, because there is no one answer to be made. Something is very wrong when a child reacts by slapping, though any child might kick if his arms or legs were forcibly held. Children who are slapped, slap back, so that the first thing one must do is to go away from the child who slaps and ignore him. Naturally one must stop slapping him if this method has been used to try and force him into any line of conduct.

We try to teach a child that there are certain things which he cannot do because they are harmful to himself the method has said one do," because which one does in each case differs as do the cases. Remember obedience is not attained by spanking a child.

"However, I don't entirely agree with you in your application of the theory to Cleaver. That fish-eyed gambler has unsuspected potentialities for evil. But with the theory itself I am wholly in accord. And behold, my dear Markham; you yourself apply psychology in its sbecedarian implications, yet ridicule my application of it in its higher developments. Consistency may be the hobgoblin of little minds, y'know, but it's none the less a priceless jewel......

"That's for you to explain," said Vance. "But if you'll take my ad-vice you'll send for this Boonton catchpole, and let him have a look at Pop. If he says Cleaver is the man-he ticketed, I'll humbly do away with myself."

at Pop. If he says Cleaver is the man he ticketed, I'll humbly do away with myself."

"Well! That makes it worth trying I'll have the officer at the Stuyvesant Club this afternoon, and I'll point out Cleaver to him. What other staggering revelations have you in store?"

"Mannix will bear looking into."

Markham put down his knife and fork and leaned back.

"I'm overcome! Such Himalayan sagacity! With that evidence against him, he should be arrested at once.

Vance, my dear old friend, are you feeling quite normal? No dizzy spells lately? No shooting pains in the head? Knee-jerks all right?"

"Furthermore. Doctor Lindquist was wildly infatuated with the Canary, and insanely jealous. Recently threatened to take a pistol and hold a little pogrom of his own."

"That's better." Markham sat up. "Where did you get this information?"

"All That's my secret."

Markham was annoyed.

"Why so, mysterious?"

"Needs must, old chip. Gave my word, and all that sort of thing, And I'm a bit quixotic, don't y know—too much Cervantes in my youth." He spoke lightly, but Markham knew him too well to push the question.

much Cervantes in my youth. He spoke lightly, but Markham knew him too well to push the question.

In less than five minutes after we had returned to the district attorney's office Heath came in.

"I got something else on Mannix, sir; thought you might want to add it to the report I turned in yesterday. Burke secured a picture of him, and showed it to the phone operator and showed it to the phone operator and showed it to the phone operator at twest the Canary he called on. It was the woman in Apartment 2. She's named Frisbee, and used to be one of Mannix's fur models. He's been to see her several times during the past six months, and has taken her out once or twice; but he hasn't called on her for a month or more. ... Any good?"

"Can't tell." Markham shot Vance an inquisitive look. "But thanks for the information, Sergeant."

"By the bye," said Vance dulcetly, when Heath had left us, "I'm feeling tophole. No gains in the head; no dizzy spells. Knee-jerks perfect."

"Delighted. Still, I can't charge a man with murder because he calls on his fur model."

"You're so hasty! Why should you charge him with murder?" Vance rose and yawned. "Come, Van. I'd rather like to gaze on Perneb's tomb at the Metropolitan this afternoon. Could you bear it?" At the door he paused. "I say, Markham, what about the Boonton bailiff?"

Markham rang for Swacker.

"I'll see to it at once. Drop in at the club around five, if you feel like it. I'll have the officer there then, as Cleaver is sure to come in before dinner."

When Vance and I returned to the club late that afternoon, Markham

"Bo do I." returned Markham viciously.

Less than ten minutes later Cleaver entered the rotunda from the street, paused at the desk, and sauntered into the lounge-room. There was no escaping the observation point Markham had chosen; and as he walked by us he paused and exchanged greetings.

Markham detained him a moment with a few casual questions; and Cleaver passed on.

"That the man you ticketed, officer?" asked Markham, turning to Phipps, was scowling perplexedly.

"It looks something like him, sir; there's a kind of resemblance. But it ain't him." He shook his head. "No, sir, it ain't him." The feliew I hung a summons on was stouter than this gent, and wasn't as tall."

"You're positive?"

"Yes, sir — no mistake. The guy I tagged tried to argue with me and then he tried to slip me a fiver to forget it. I had my headlight on him full.

Phipps was dismissed with a substantial fee.

Vance sighed. "My worthless existence is to be prolonged. Sad. But you must try to bear it. I say, Markham, what does Pop Cleaver's hrother look like?"

"That's it." nodded Markham. "I've met his brother; he's shorter and stouter. This thing is getting beyond me. I think 'I'l have it out with Cleaver now."

He started to rise, but Vance forced him back into his seat.

"Don't be impetuous. Cuitivate patience. Cleaver's not going to do a bunk; and there are one or two preliminry steps strongly indicated Mannix and Lindquist still seduce my curiosity."

Markham clung to his point.

"Neither Mannix nor Lindquist is here now, and Cleaver is and I want to know why he lied to me about that summons."

"I can tell your that," said Vance. "He wanted you to think he was in the wilds of New Jersey at midnight Monday—Simple, what?"

"The inference is a credit to your intelligence! But I hope you don't seriously think that Cleaver is guility. It's possible he knows something; but I certainly cannot picture him as a strangler."

"And why?"

"He's not that type. It's inconceivable—even if there were evidence against him."

"An! The psychological judgment! You eliminate Cleaver because you don't think his nature harmonizes with the situation. I say, doesn't that come perilously near being an esouric hypothesis?—or a metaphysical edduction?

"However, I don't entirely agree with you in your application of the theory to Cleaver. That fath eyed gambler has his New York Rangers to the word stehampionship, had the following to say:

"I went through the hardest time of the whole business right in that dressing room. I never realized that I would ever have to play in a world's series again, and especially in goal. When Chabot had to be taken off and we realized that he was out for the game and the series, we figured on having some N.H.L. goalkeeper who was present jump in. Then the Maroons would not allow this and by the way. I don't think any other team in the league would have objected—we started to figure out whom we could get to fill in.
"Outside of Chabot there was not a man on the club who had ever the goalle's pads on, except myself.

"Realizing this the players crowded around me, and begged me to go in. They swore that they would play in front of me as they never played before. I want to give them their due. They deserve great credit. They did as they promised. I had a few fairly hard shots, but not half as many as if the boys were not figuring on putting up a real fight for me.

NERVOUS AT THE START

"I was nervous at the start. I admit it. But it was not really fear of what was going to happen. I had nothing to lose. But I am just naturally nervous in anything I undertake till I get started. That's my nature. But after I got going it didn't matter how many shots went by me. I was in there only to do my best. Give credit to the boys for saving me too much trouble."

much trouble."
Commenting on the incident, one Montreal writer has the following to say:
"There was another part of Patrick's affair that brought more color into the scheme of things. There was only one man who had a goaler's outfit in the club and that was Chabot. That made it necessary for Patrick to Jump into his equipment. And he did this, donning everything Chabot had worn. In fact when he put on Chabot's skates he had to call loudly for extra socks to make them fit. Chabot's feet, let it be told to the whole world, are much bigger than Lester's.

"Discussing the refusal of Maroons to allow another goaler to help them out. he went back to 1922 when he handled the Vancouver Maroons for his brother Frank. On the occasion the Vancouver team were playing the Toronto st. Patricks. The latter unfortunately lost the services of Harry Cameron and Ken Randall. A conference was held to see what would be done for Toronto, and Leter, even though he was acting for somebody else, agreed that Toronto should be allowed to pick some NHL. player to help them out. They picked the best defence man in the league at the time, none other than Eddle Gerard, present manager of the Maroons, and Toronto won the series."

Prospects for the coming season look rosy both for the newly-formed Vancouver Island League and the Victoria Senior Amateur Basebail League. The three clubs in the senior league, the Sons of Canada, Eagles and Old-timers are busy signing up players and getting their teams into shape for the opening date, Saturday, May 5.

Last night the Capitals staged a practice at the Royal Athletic and a good turnout of players including a couple of new pitchers. George Driver, late of Portland, who will spend the Summer here has decided to cast in his lot with the Island entry, while Art Blunt, who pitched for Nanaimo last season, will also be with the Capitals. # New York, April 18—Tex Rickard returned from Miami, Fla., yesterday and named New York as the site for the heavyweight title battle between Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney, this Summer. Although no definite plan was set, the bout probably will take place in the Yankee stadium on Thursday night, July 26. The promoter gave up all idea of taking the bout to England, because of excessive taxation abroad. Rickard believes the match will draw $1,500,000 in New York. Although the gate receipts probably would be as large in London, with the mammoth Wembley Stadium available. Rickard classed the pro-Victoria Boxing Club Will Stage

The Sons of Canada, last year's champions of the senior league, have a number of stars under their colors and will make a big bid to carry off the honors again this season. Among the players on their team will be the two Campbells, Colin and "Kim," Jack Bacon. Stan Stanyer, Roy Copas, Jimmy Cummins and Bill Holman.

Manager Len Oliver, of the Eagles, has also been active during the past few days and has gathered together a likely looking squad including "Hap" Gandy, George Gandy, Bert Nex, Johnny Latham, Joe Smith. Bobby Ross, Harry Downs and Roy Baker.

Heeney's story is not only romantic to the point of fiction, but it features another character almost as romantic, good old Charley Harvey, his manager. Where Heeney advanced from a dime to a fortune in a little over a year, poor Charley Harvey has been battling adverse fortune for twenty years. He always figured that his break would come, but he was almost broken beyond repair, physically and financially, before the fates changed for him. Heeney and Harvey can tell the most interesting story that has been related in many, many days and there isn't any junk to it. Theirs is the story of two hard-working fellows just trying to get along for years and who finally landed.

The Story of Tom Heeney

Not many months ago, there arrived in New York a heavyweight fighter of great reputation named Tom Heeney. He was broke and discouraged and his arrival caused no excitement among the promotes and managers of the big city.

All he sought was enough work to provide transportation to his native
New Zealand where again he could ply his trade as a blacksmith.

But he had no friends and those whom he asked for aid frowned upon him. That is, all except one man.

There lived in New York a man named Charles Harvey. A square-shooter, and an importer of English fighters for many years.

Luck had never smiled on Harvey. But he was cheerful and optimistic

Await Developments

The long-drawn-out controversy between the city of Grand Forks and the West Kootenay Power and Light Company over electrical rates, a dispute which is being watched with interest by all British Columbia municipalities, took a new turn to-day with the announcement of the company formerly planned to allow the Provincial Water boa. ...

The company formerly planned to allow the fate dispute to be argued before the board, but is now asking that the toils which it filed with the board for arbitration be withdrawn. In this way it refuses to accede to the proposed settlement.

EXPECT LEGAL ACTION

ENPECT LEGAL ACTION
Following a policy announced some time ago. Grand Forks is expected to apply to the courts for a mandamus to compel the company to arbitrate the dispute before the board. This action is expected as soon as Grand Forks has been advised officially of the action of the company in withdrawing the tolls previously filed with the board for adjudication. The matter is of Province-wide interest because it involves the use of the water board as a virtual public utilities commission so far as electrical rates are concerned.

Forke Addresses National Liberal Women's Convention in Ottawa

Ottawa, April 18—"When is this trek from the country to the cities going to stop? Are we going to abandon our rural life to be supplanted in the country by immigrants from the continent of Europe?"

These were 'questions asked by Hon. Robert Porke, Minister of Immigration, when addressing the 500 delegates at the National Liberal Women's Convention here yesterday.

gates at the National Liberal Women's Convention bere yesterday.

The statesman who can stop the drainage of the rural population to the cities will be doing a great patricular of the cities will be doing a great patricular of the cities will be doing a great patricular of the cities will be doing a great patricular of the continued. "It was one of my ambitions when I came into office to do something toward that end. It is not that these, imigrants are ignorant or undesirable. Pick up the honor list of the universities of the West. A large proportion of these names are foreign, and unless we look to it sharply the children of tress immigrants, born here and educated in our schools, will out-distance our people of origin native to Canada. I am not finding fault with that condition, but I warn you it is a possibility.

LAND OF PROMISE

LAND OF PROMISE

"To many European continentals, the North American continent, with its prosperity, its higher wages, its broad stretches of undeveloped land," wenton Mr. Forke, "its low taxation and free education, its genuine democracy, is a veritable promised tand. We have to ask ourselves what is to be our attitude toward those people. What barriers are we going to set up against those who look with longing eyes toward our shores? Must we in selfdefence, in the interests of the immigrants themselves, effectually regulate the influx to cuard against unpleasant complications? LAND OF PROMISE the influx to quard against unpleasant complications?

"There is a cardinal principle in immigration that should ever be kept in mind, if the immigrant is without capital, then there must be capital found to provide employment. In the past the stream of immigrants into this country has been in close relation to the inflow of capital.

then Lift Right Off.

ALL FACTORS CONSIDERED

"I do not know of any final solution of the immigration problem. There must be careful consideration of all the factors entering into the question—labor conditions, industrial conditions and capital available for development of our natural resources. The some costs only a few cents at any drug store, and is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, and callouses.

To do this brawn and muscle are needed to dig sewers, to build railway tracks, to build highways. If people foresake the cities to till the soil, where are the people to do this work?"

**Mr. Forke commended the splendid work of the farm women's societies, and, the women's institutes especially in the remoter parts of the West. "They make the immigrants feel they have come to live amongst a kind people in a neighborhood willing to help them." ALL FACTORS CONSIDERED

Indeed, the medical literature of France, Germany and Austria shows records of thousands of cases with hundreds of deaths each year all over the world from this cause.

Dr. S. R. Damon points out that there are no simple tests by which the layman can distinguish poisonous from harmless mushrooms. The superstitution that peeling the top shows something or that cooking with a silver spoon will indicate the poisonous variety is without the slightest scientific foundation.

those who have made a serious study of the question.

There are more than eighty species growing in North America that are known to be poisonous. Almost everyone is familiar with the first symptoms of mushroom poisoning. These include acute pain in the abdomen and the attempt of the stomach and intestines to get rid of the poisonous material.

In a few days the person becomes, jaundiced, turns blue and if the case is going to be fatal, gradually lapses into unconsciousness.

Since both peoples had different ends in view there had been at first a natural cleavage between them, but now at last, though a well-recognized boundary divided them in a physical sense, both countries realize that they have untold interests in common. "They have," he said, "the same language, the same literature, the same clucation, and powerful economic and other ties, which guarantee even closer co-operation in the future. The fears and uncertainties of the past have disappeared and a new era of good fellowship has set in."

Since the Imperial Conference in London in 1926, said the Minister, Candah had established direct diplomatic intercourse with the United States, and since, therefore, this country was now officially connected through its own Minister in Washington with the Department of State in Washington, he thought that his audience might be interested in having a brief sketch of Mr. Phillips thereupon pointed out that in order to visualize the State Department, one must keep in mind its two great divisions, the Department as it exists in Washington, and the Foreign Service of the United States, which was scattered throughout the world, each with a personnel of approximately six hundred persons. He pointed out its rapid growth and expansion since 1903, when he had become connected with it, and then showed how Canadian matters were being sympathetically handled.

Continuing, the Minister said: "The correspondence, other than fiele routine, which reaches the department through the legation in Ottawa, through the American consular officers in the Dominion, or through the channels of your own Minister in Washington, finds its way in the first instance to an officer who has had already three years of experience in the Consulate-General in Ottawa. ## Unpardonable Perspiration Odour readily avoided

What quality can match the beauty of a lovely skin? And what social error can so readily embarrass its possessor, as that subtle offence - perspiration odour?

Of course, every one perspires. In this way nature rids the human system of one to two pints of moisture every day.

But this perspiration, so necessary and so healthful, need not be offensive.

Why not be sure of absolute personal daintiness? All you need to do is use Lifebuoy for face, hands and bath - and perspiration odour

New York, April 18 (By Branson Brown & Co. Ltd.)—Whitney, of the Wall Street Pinancial Bureau, says to-

"I consider the market at the present to be in a particularly dangerous situation, one which does not necessarily mean that violent collapse sarily mean that violent collapse is imminient but, nevertheless, one containing so many possibilities for trouble that the rally should be used for liquidating and accounts to be withdrawn temporarily and become an observer instead of a participant. If this thought is not followed to the letter, at least you can continue the policy of cutting down commitments on issues as they are advanced.

"Congoleum after literally months of non participation in the advance isthrough to a new high. It is recemimended that you refuse to take profit. The objective on the issue is 40 or better. Having exercised that much patience with it, do not dispose of it at this time. Yellow Truck, which has disappointed as much as Congoleum, is much in same position that Congoleum was but a day or so ago. Without making another buying recommendation at this time, at least keep your position. ing another buying recommendation at this time, at least keep your position in the issue."

but there was a little better demind for one or two grades, and spreads were unchanged to \(^1\) better. Weather in Western Canada continues cold and is delaying Spring work. Lake navigation officially opened a year ago, but there is now little ebence of the opening this year at least before May \(^1\). The market has reached a point where wide swings are to be expected, but the market looks like a buy on sharp breaks while looks like a buy on sharp breaks while present weather conditions continue.

IN THE NORTH COUNTRY low cost hydro-electric power has been one of the most important factors in developing the mineral wealth of the great Pre-Cambrian Shield. 4 This highly mineralized rock formation underlies two-thirds of the Dominion, and is the largest known exposure of its kind in the world. 4 Developments in the Ontario-Quebec mining field, which forms but a small portion of the Pre-Cambrian Area, indicate Canada's tremendous mineral potentialities. 4 By keeping well ahead of the power needs of the mining industry, Canada Northern Power Corporation Limited has played an important part in developing the mineral resources of the North Country.

Paramount-Famous-Lasky advanced eight points on news that first quarter earnings were exceptionally satisfactory. U.S. Realty also went to new highs. It was reported that the company had signed some very substantial contracts in the past weeks, and there were also rumors of a possible stock dividend. In the last hour the general tone was quite steady, the firmness of the market doubtless encouraging many speculators to enter on the buying side.

PEND OREILLE AND GRANDVIEW

Vancouver. April 16.—Pend Orielle and Grandview continued the key stocks on the Vancouver Stock Exchange to-day. Tuesdey afternoon on unconfirmed rumors in brokerage circles of continued negotiation by Consolidated for control of the property there was a jump of $1.75 to a close of $20.25, and Grandview rose in sympathy with its senior sister.

To-day at the opening Pend Orelie sold at 20.50 and later advanced to 21.44 on sales of 1.300 shares. The higher price was not sustained, however, and before the close there was a recession to 20.50.

Grandview, which has consistently ever, and before the close there was a recession to 20.50.

Grandview, which has consistently remained one of the most active stocks on the board, ran into the double column of sales to-day at prices ranging from an opening of 64 to a high of 67½. There was substantial trading at the higher price, but towards the close of the session, it gradually fell, back again to near the opening quotation, on a turnover of approximately 30,000 shares. Last sales were at 65. Premier remained fairly steady, fluctuating between 226 and 227 with light sales, but Porter Idaho, on the prospect of immediate development by Premier, as reported from the meeting at Stewart Monday, was firmer, gaining about two points to 65 on sales of about 4,600.

Along the face of the big board there

HUDSON BAY HARBOR COSTS Rubber Prices

Ottawa. April 18—Senator Dandurand, in reply to a question, stated in the Senate last night that the sum paid Frederick Paimer for his report on the Nelson and Churchil harbors on Hudson Bay was £9.425. He was selected as there was a controversy between Canadian engineers and public officials as to the relative merits of those harbors for the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway and it had been considered advisable to secure the opinion of an engineer of unquestioned authority who was not a party to the controversy.

Commissioner A. T. Hunter, investigating the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, was paid in halary and expenses $3.170, it was stated. The other expenses to date were $7.106.

This grim foe of health ignores the teeth and attacks the gums.

So take this precaution: See your dentist every six months and use the dentifrice that does far more than keep teeth clean.

Every morning and every night, brush your teeth with Forhan's for the Gums. As a dentifrice alone, you would prefer it. Without the use of harsh brasives it restores teeth to natural whiteness and protects them against acids which cause decay:
And, in addition, if used regularly and in time, it helps gums to resist Pyorrhea by keeping them sound and healthy.

AFRICA MARU IN AFTER GOOD TRIP

Heavy Cargo Brought From Orient By O.S.K. Liner; Here Last Night

Bringing nearly 3,000 tons of general cargo besides over $3,000,000 worth of raw slik, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha Maru docked here at 9 p.m. yesterday from Japan and China ports. Capt. Toru Yamaguchi reported a smooth trip across the Pacific.

The Africa brought a passenger list totaling seventy-four. Forty passengers left the ship at this port, two being first cabin travelers. Seventeen of these third-class passengers were newcomers to this country.

For Seattle, there were eight first-class and twenty-six third-class passengers.

ciass and twenty-six third-class passengers.

Little cargo was discharged at this port, although several bags of Orfental mail were set down here. For discharge on Puget Sound, the ship had 3,300 bales of raw silk, ten tons of silk goods, 1,060 tons of general for Seattle, 1,320 tong of overland cargo, and 380 tons intercoastal. She also had 150

One hundred and eleven Pacific crossings in addition to nine trips to South America and three to East Africa, for a total mileage of something like 550,000 miles, is the record of ocean travel claimed by Ichiro Sato, purser of the Osaka Shosen Kalsha Africa Maru, which arrived from the Far East last night.

Ichiro Sato, purser of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha Africa Maru, which arrived from the Far East last night.

Sato's claim to fame lies in the fact that he is said to be the only ship's purser to cross the Pacific III. times. He has been in the service of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha for pearly twenty years, acting as purser on the company's steamer Seattle Maru when that vessel inaugurated the O.S.K. North Pacific service in 1909. He has been plying between Japan and Victoria and Seattle almost continuously since that time.

New Wharf Costing $5,000, 000 to Be Dedicated at Civic Affair

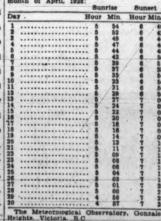

Civic Affair

London, April 18.—The Prince of Wales will visit Bristol on May 23 to open the eastern arm extension of the Royal Edward Dock. He will have a civic welcome when he reaches the city at 11 o'clock, and will go to Avonmouth by road. At the Junction Cut. which connects Avonmouth, and the Royal Edward Dock, he will join a steamer for the dock extension, and the sessel will cut the ribbon stretched across the entrance. Going on to the far end of the new arm the Prince will land at the wharf where an address of welcome will be presented.

The new dock, which has taken nearly two years to construct, has cost about $5,000,000. The corposation received help for the scheme in Government grants for work for the unemployed. With a water area of 21 acres the new dock space is 1,700 feet long and 400 feet wide. There are six extra deep water berths. It is equipped with the most modern appliances for the rapid handling of cargoes. An additional granary has 20,000 tons capacity.

The first sod of the Royal Edward Dock was cut on March 5, 1902, by King Edward, who paid a second visit to open the dock on July 9, 1908, whas knighted.

Uncle Wiggily and Ouick Susie

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garls)

Now what do you suppose Uncle Wigglly did to the sad picture on Mr. Twistytail's wall to make it jolly? Why, the rabbit gentleman did just as you did, if you guessed the puzzle last night. He just turned the picture upside down on the easel and he didn't change a line or dot on it.

"Ha Ha: Ha!" laughed the picture up-

"Dear me! How much better I feet." chuckled the fat pig. "Ha: Ha! "He!"

"Yes, it's often that way in this world," said Uncle Wigglly, also laughing. "When we look at sad things we are sad, but a jolly picture makes us happy. I'm glad I have cured you, Mr. Twistytail."

The pig gentleman was also glad and he went to bed very happy that night as did also Mr. Longears. Bright and early the next morning fast as you can what different animals live in these different homes," said the rabbit gentleman. "Who will be the quickest to give me the right answers?"
Up popped the paw of Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, and she said: "I know the four animals!"
"Ha! That is very fast! I shall call you Quick Susie." said Mr. Longears, and Susie was the first to give the right answers. Now see how quickly you can name the animals who live in these four homes. And if the umbrella doesn't try to slide down the banister railing and poke the potato in the eye, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Slow Sammie.

"How are you this beautiful morning?

Uncle Wigglly awakened in his hollow atump bungalow and, after twinkling his pink nose once or three times, the rabbit gentleman hopped from his bed and looked out of the window.

"Well, it isn't raining: that's one good thing said Mr Longears."I think I'll sing a song!"

So he began to sing about the flowers that bloom in the Spring, tra-la, when, all of a sudden, he saw, creeping along the path, the Lady Mouse Teacher from the Hollow Stump School.

Teacher from the Hollow Stump School.

"Oh, hello Lady Mouse;" called Uncle Wiggly, stopping his singing. "How are you this bright, beautiful morning?" "Not so well," squeaked the Teacher Mouse rather sadly.

"What's the matter?" Uncle Wiggly wanted to know. "Didn't you have any cheese for breakfast?"

"Oh, yes. I had some cheese." answered Miss Mouse. "But it didn't make me feel any happier."

"Perhaps some one tried to datch you in a trap," went on Mr. Longears. "If you're sad about that I'll sing you another song."

"No, I wasn't nearly caught in a trap," squeaked Miss Mouse. "It's about the boys and girls in my Hollow Stump School that I am sad."

"What have your pupils been doing?" asked the rabbit, jumping out of the window to stand beside Miss Mouse.

"They haven't been doing anything

Vaudeville holds the top position at the Coliseum Theatre this week. Opening the programme are the "Near Sisters" in songs and comic dances. This act is one of the hits of this week's bill. The solution, discovered by John Nickolaus, laboratory head of the studio, was found to be in painting out groups of spokes, which makes the appearance of the remainder as having greater space and permits the camera and the eye to follow them correctly.

Adolphe Menjou's current Paramount starring vehicle, "Blonde or Brunette," at the Collseum all week, is a highly amusing comedy.
Greta Nissen; Arlette Marchal, one of France's fairest, and Menjou all star.
At least it takes three marriages and two divorces for him to determine who is who and which is which. The deft directorial touches of Richard Rossonare at all times in evidence.
"Blonde or Brunette" is merely the record of a gentleman who looked for an "old-fashioned girl," found her, and then discovered that Paris had worked a change. Then he divorced the first and married a real Victorian who liked nothing better than to stay home and play the harp. What was he to do?

ACTRESS HAS FINE WARDROBE IN NEW VARIETY PICTURE

DAYS AT COLISEUM Ann Rork, featured recently in "The Blonde Saint" and "The Notorious Lady," at last has a chance to wear stylish clothes, she boasts, in "The Prince of Headwaiters," a comedy-drama. In the other two pictures she was clad in picturesque native costumes; now in "The Prince of Headwaiters" she has a wardrobe fit for a princess. This film is being shown at the Variety Theatre all this week. a grand historical opera, will open a five-night run, with two matinees, at the Coliseum Theatre next Tuesday. The story is founded on the history of Palestine, in the early days of Christ, when the Romans were in possession of the Paud. The opera is in three acts, and comes as a pleasant change from the usual run of theatries at acts, and comes as a pleasant change from the usual run of theatrical attractions. There are two scenes in the first act, the opening scene showing the Romans attacking and destroying the Holy Temple. The high priest enters and bemoans the trouble that has befallen their nation, and begs the ceople to be peaceful and true to the laws of Caeser. The last two acts are as remarkable as the first, and it is certain that this operatic production, will stir up great interest in the people of Victoria.

BIRTH CONTROL IS ONE LECTURE IN SHORT SERIES

In conjunction with the eugenic picture, "Are You Fit to Marry?" which is playing all this week at the Playhouse Theatre, Dr. Lyle Telford will give a series of lectures. On Thursday and Friday afternoons a special matinee will be held for women only. At these matinees Dr. Telford will lecture on very intimate subjects. The first day the subject will be sex hygene, followed by a lecture on the following afternoon on birth control. The doctor will also lecture in the evening to mixed audiences. The first intimate closeup ever given of the inside workings of aviation are revealed in "Wings." Paramount's epic of the ace in the war, which is coming to the Royal Theatre Monday, April 23, for a week's run. Despite the fact that flying is daily becoming a, more important factor in. human life, due to its very nature, there has been an isolation about aviation in the public mind that has always kept it more of less of a mystery. When the flier is in the air, he is always a distant, phantom-like character, moving in a world unknown to the individual on the ground. In "Wings" he meets the public face to face for the first time. The audience will see him as he is, behind the scenes, as he enters the cockpit, as he scars into the sky, far above the clouds, will be in the plane with him, will experience all the thrills of flight, the dangers, the terrors and the glories.

Adolphe Menjou started out on his theatrical career as a comedian. Now he is considered the personification of the syave society gentleman. "The stage and screen are filled with

STARS CREATE SENSATION IN "7TH HEAVEN"

"7th Heaven," which local picture lovers have been acclaiming as one of the finest screen dramas of years, is now being shown at the Columbia.

This is the picture with which Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrel, the two leads, created a sensation in both Los Angeles and New York, where critics halled it as the greatest picture shown there this season. It was directed for Fox Films by Frank Borzage, maker of "Humoresque," the great screen success of some years back, but in the opinion of those who saw both "7th Heaven" surpasses the former masterplece in every way. piece in every way.

THREE OF BEST FROM WORLD OF PICTURES PLAY

Three of the greatest names in motion pictures were joined to produce the new Clara Bow comedy. "Red Hair," for Paramount. Clara Bow is the star; Elinor Glyn, the author, and Clarence Badger, the director. Their previous picture together was "It."

The combination which produced "Red Hair," the picture which will be at the Dominion Theatre this week, is known the world over.

Clara Bow is known as the reigning flapper of the screen; Elinor Glyn is famous for her novels and theories of love and Clarence Badger was responsible for the direction of "It" and many other Paramount comedies.

"Red Hair" is the story of a manicurist whose mild flirtations with three
